

April 1, 2012 NEWSLETTER

Beginning ...Once upon a time, the wolf, soon after spying Little Red Riding Hood in the town square because she was wearing a very bright hoodie, stole a motorcycle and rode it into the Black Forest where she lived with 3 pigs an important event occurs, then another And another.....

 and so on and on until after sundry events and sundried prunes

End: and then there were (or better, "was") none.

Questions: Can you deduce what happened? Do you think the wolf should be arrested? Hints: The motorcycle was not a BMW. Little Red Hiding Hood was an octoroon. The local KKK mini-grand-dragon favored arresting the wolf but was too bashful to say so. The leading local evangelical TV minister took up the hue but not the cry.

The monthly club dinner/meeting will be held April 16 at 6 PM on top of Old Smokie whether it's covered with snow or not.
